Thank you for your enquiry about becoming a Registered Health Practitioner with the Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand Incorporated.

Previously known as the New Zealand Charter of Health Practitioners Incorporated, this organisation was formed in 1993 to raise the standards and profile of natural health practitioners throughout New Zealand. We work with professional associations who have set the standards for the practitioners in the various modalities of natural healthcare.

There are many benefits of being a Registered Health Practitioner. These are included in the accompanying documentation.

To apply for registration as a Registered Health Practitioner please

- Read all the following pages thoroughly
- Ensure that you complete all sections of the Practitioner Membership Application Form and supply copies of all required documentation. Incomplete application forms and documentation will not be processed.

Once you have completed the Practitioner Membership Application Form, please send it with all relevant documentation to the NHPNZ:

Following the Registrars' approval, applicants will be issued with an A3 Registration Certificate and an A5 Practicing Certificate (provided annually) certifying their specified approved modalities. A Certificate of Insurance will be supplied annually to those applicants obtaining Insurance through the Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand Insurance Scheme.

The Registration Certificate and the Annual Practicing Certificate are required to be displayed side by side as proof of your current registration with the Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand.

Becoming registered as a Registered Health Practitioner brings with it a responsibility to comply with the Code of Ethics and Code of Practice of the Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand and the Code of Rights published by the Health and Disability Commissioner. In addition to this you are expected to comply with legislation applying to practitioners in New Zealand and will become subject to the Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand's Complaint and Disciplinary Regulations.

The Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand is committed to maintaining and promoting high standards of competency, education, professional qualifications and accountability in natural health care and we look forward to welcoming you as a Registered Health Practitioner.

Yours in Health
Marion Miller
Administrator

CONTINUING PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT/EDUCATION

The following information is applicable to those members who have either joined our organization through a Training Establishment or via Direct Registration. If you are a current member of one of our Professional Associations and they have ongoing Professional Development, you meet their requirements.

A current Level 2 First Aid Certificate or a medical exemption is required for professional membership.

For Natural Therapies, a minimum of 20 points is recommended each year.
For Natural Medicine, a minimum of 30 points is recommended each year

More information on how these credits can be accrued is available on our website in the members area. Non-members can obtain this information by contacting the office.

POLICE VETTING

If you are successful in your application for registered practitioner membership of the Natural Health Practitioners of NZ you may also be required to undergo the police vetting check periodically in the future, as part of our on-going membership renewal process.

For your understanding

The Natural Health Practitioners of NZ is registered and approved as a “Trusted Agency” with the NZ Police Vetting Service.

The “Authorisation to disclose information” form enables the NZ Police to release any information they hold about you, not only convictions. This includes any interaction you may have had with the police in any context (for example as victim or complainant). This is because, as a Natural Health Practitioner, your role meets the criteria in Section 19(3) (e) of the Criminal Records (Clean Slate) Act 2004. This means that even if you are eligible for the Clean Slate Act 2004 your full criminal incidents record may be released due to the exception in this clause.

However, the police vetting service will only release information they deem relevant to your application to become a Registered Practitioner Member of the Natural Health Practitioners of NZ. This would include information that could have a bearing on your role working with children/young persons and vulnerable adults.

For more information, you can go to the police vetting website: www.police.govt.nz

Confidentiality.

All information released by the Police Vetting Service will be treated with the utmost confidentiality. Only those persons essential to the NHPNZ member application and registration process will be privy to the results released by the Police Vetting Service.

The results are released electronically by the Police Vetting Service to a secure site. The only access to this site will be by trusted NHPNZ Registrars, who are bound by confidentiality.

Should the NHPNZ Registrars deem it necessary to print a copy of your police vetting results these will be stored securely and kept only as long as deemed absolutely necessary for your application process. Once no longer required these results will be destroyed.

Insurance Information

As a professional NHPNZ Registered Practitioner you are required to have Insurance cover.

You can choose the Insurance cover offered under the Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand Insurance Scheme.

You may choose to obtain your Insurance from another provider. If using another Insurance Provider, you are required to provide a copy of the Insurance Certificate issued by them.

The cover period of the NHPNZ Insurance runs from 1st April to the 31st March each year. Your cover becomes effective as soon as your application is completed.

If joining part way through the year the Insurance premium are issued on a pro-rata basis.

You will receive an Annual Insurance Certificate detailing the areas and amounts of cover.

A copy of the full policy is available for inspection by contacting the office of the Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand Inc.

Your Insurance cover is for your practice of natural healthcare (for the modalities you are registered in) and training you may provide to others as part of this practice. If you provide training as a main part of your business or you are involved in selling products (other than as an incidental to your practice) you may need additional cover.

The amount of cover provided under each section of the policy is shown below. This should be more than adequate for the likely cost of claims in New Zealand although lease agreements or other contractual arrangements may require a higher Public Liability limit.

LIMIT OF INDEMNITY:
(Per member)

General Liability –
$2,000,000 each occurrence

Products Hazare
$2,000,000 in aggregate

Employers Liability
$500,000 in aggregate

Statutory Liability
$500,000 in aggregate

Professional Liability (Provision of the training services only in the Natural Health profession only.)
$500,000 any one claim and in aggregate

EXCESS:

$1,000 each and every claim, except $500 for Public Liability, including costs and expenses

If you require a higher Public Liability limit, please contact the NHPNZ Office to arrange.

Insurance Information continued...

The Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand Inc. Insurance is currently provided by AIG and is arranged by Rothbury Insurance Brokers, the insurance adviser to the Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand. The underwriters at AIG have considerable experience in arranging covers of this type and have access to a panel of specialist legal advisers to assist you with claims.

In the event of a complaint or claim

Do not engage in dialogue or admit responsibility, and do not incur any costs without the insurer's agreement.

As a first step contact the Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand. They will assist you with the procedures to follow and the formal notification to insurers.

Working in Australia

You may be covered for some work while visiting Australia like trade conferences. Please check with the NHPNZ office for detail.

Phone/Skype appointments

Insurance for practitioners in NZ giving phone/Skype appointments to clients only in NZ is covered under their NHPNZ Insurance policy.

Animal treatments

Animal treatments are covered under the NHPNZ Insurance Policy if this is covered under your training. The appropriate disclaimer or waiver form is required from the owners.

All Registered Practitioners are bound by the following principles of Ethical Behaviour and Codes of Practice.

CODE OF ETHICS

Principal 1: At all times your primary and first duties are the health and well-being of your patients/clients.

Principal 2: Maintain your integrity and remain within your scope of practice.

Principal 3: To recognise your own limitations as well as the specific skills of others in maintaining health and wellbeing.

Principal 4: To honour and respect your professional colleagues and uphold your Profession and its on-going traditions.

Principal 5: To improve your professional knowledge and skills so that the best possible advice and available support can be afforded to your patients/clients.

Principal 6: Unless a legal duty of disclosure operates to remove confidentiality in a particular case, endeavour to protect the patient's/client's confidentiality at all times

PRINCIPLES AND CODE OF PRACTICE

All patient/clients' records are to be kept in accordance with best business practice and confidentially.

All therapies and advice given will be within the practitioner scope of practice.

All equipment used will comply with local body and national regulations.

Continuing Professional Education must be undertaken to maintain skills and knowledge to a recognised standard of performance.

A list of other practitioners be available to facilitate referral of clients outside the attending practitioner's scope of practice.

Practitioners must abide by all local by-laws and regulations and national acts of parliament as they may apply.

The rights of fellow practitioners shall be upheld at all times with regard to their expertise and knowledge.

No practitioner shall make claims outside their scope of practice in regard to protocol or procedures.

Any Registered Practitioner found to be compromising the confirmed by-laws or codes of the Natural Health Practitioners of New Zealand Incorporated will be called upon to attend a disciplinary hearing for review of their Registered Status.
